

1. INTRODUCTION

Drivetrain Australia Pty Ltd and, its subsidiaries and associated companies (Drivetrain Australia) is committed to respecting and providing privacy and protection for all personal information gathered. We follow the Australian Privacy Principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act) and all other applicable laws governing privacy.

This Privacy Policy sets out our policies on the management of personal information. Personal information is any information or an opinion about an identified, or reasonably identifiable individual which may include your name, address, telephone number or email address.

2. WHY IS PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED?

Personal information is collected where we believe it is necessary to do so in order to effectively carry on our business activities. This information enables us to provide you with goods and services and to improve and personalise our services to you. Your personal information can be updated or changed at any time by contacting Drivetrain Australia in writing in any of the ways outlined in section 14 below.

3. HOW IS PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED?

Personal information may be collected through your interactions and transactions with us. Examples of this are when you place an order for goods or services or apply for credit from us. Personal information will only be accepted from the person to whom the information corresponds unless it is unreasonable or impracticable to do so. If sensitive personal information is collected about a person, the consent of that person will be obtained whenever it is appropriate or necessary to do so.

4. WHAT KINDS OF PERSONAL INFORMATION DOES DRIVETRAIN AUSTRALIA COLLECT?

The kinds of personal information Drivetrain Australia may collect include your name, address, telephone number, job responsibilities, email address, bank account details, credit card details, details of your usage of our website and consumer credit information (provided that the collection is expressly consented to and for a purpose related to an application for consumer credit).

5. WHAT ARE THE CONSEQUENCES OF NOT PROVIDING PERSONAL INFORMATION TO US?

Wherever it is lawful and practicable to do so, you will have the option to not identify yourself when entering into transactions with Drivetrain Australia. However, if you do not provide us with the personal information requested, it may sometimes affect our ability to provide goods and services to you and in some cases it may even mean we are unable to provide goods or services to you at all.

6. HOW AND WHY IS THE INFORMATION USED OR DISCLOSED?

Personal information will only be used or disclosed in the carrying on of our business activities and we will take reasonable steps to ensure you are aware information is being collected about you, even if it has been collected from somewhere or someone else.

We will not sell your personal information to any third party for their unrelated independent use. However we do engage third party service providers to perform functions for us such as supplying goods for re-sale to our customers, mailing correspondence, delivering goods sold, undertaking external audits and carrying out market research. Sometimes it may be necessary for us to disclose your personal information to those third parties so they can perform their functions for us and we will disclose your personal information to them whenever required or permitted by law to do so.

Where it is appropriate to do so, we will also rely on the related bodies corporate exemption in the Privacy Act and any other applicable exemptions in the Privacy Act or in other legislation.

If you will not permit us to share your personal information with these third parties, we may sometimes be unable to provide certain goods or services to you.

Your personal information may also be used for direct marketing purposes. Please note that you may opt-out at any time from marketing communications, including targeted advertising messages, by following an 'opt-out' option provided in the relevant communication or by contacting us by email, phone or post in accordance with section 14 below.

Your personal information may also be disclosed to other members of Drivetrain Australia to be used for research and development purposes in order to enhance both products and services that are developed by the group for your use.

7. IS THE PERSONAL INFORMATION WE HOLD ACCURATE?

Drivetrain Australia will take all reasonable steps to ensure the personal information collected, used or disclosed is accurate, complete and up to date. When providing us with personal information or updating your information it is your responsibility to supply the correct information and to inform us when your personal information changes. From time to time we may contact you to check that your personal information is up to date.

8. HOW PERSONAL INFORMATION IS KEPT SECURE?

Drivetrain Australia will take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse and loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. If your personal information is no longer required, we will take steps to permanently destroy or de-identify the information.

9. IS PERSONAL INFORMATION TRANSFERRED OVERSEAS?

Drivetrain Australia may disclose personal information to overseas recipients in order to provide its services and products and for administrative or other business management services. Before disclosing any personal information to an overseas recipient, Drivetrain Australia takes reasonable steps in the circumstances to ensure that the overseas recipient complies with the Australian Privacy Principles or is bound by a substantially similar privacy scheme unless you consent to the overseas disclosure or it is otherwise required or permitted by law.

10. CAN YOU ACCESS OR SEEK CORRECTION OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

You are entitled to seek access to your personal information or seek correction of any of your personal information that is held by us by contacting us directly. If you request access to your personal information, we will generally agree to do so. However, we may decline to do so in those circumstances set out in the Australian Privacy Principles. Where we decline your request for access to your personal information, we will provide our reasons to you.

11. HOW CAN YOU MAKE A COMPLAINT AND HOW WILL IT BE DEALT WITH?

You are entitled to make a complaint about the handling of your personal information or a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles by contacting the Privacy Officer in accordance with section 14 below. All complaints will be treated seriously, confidentially and promptly. After your complaint has been made, Drivetrain Australia's Privacy Officer will commence an investigation into your complaint. You will be informed of the status and outcome of your complaint.

Where it is apparent that there is a privacy breach, all efforts will be made to contain the breach, evaluate the risks associated with the breach and prevent future breaches. In the event that you are dissatisfied with the outcome of your complaint, you may refer the complaint to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.

12. DEALING WITH PERSONAL INFORMATION ON DRIVETRAIN AUSTRALIA'S WEBSITE:

12.1. How is personal information automatically received on our website?

Some personal information is automatically received and sometimes collected from you when you visit our website. Drivetrain Australia and the host of the website (Site Host) receive and may collect the name of the domain from which you access the internet, the internet protocol address of the computer you are using, the browser software you use and your operating system, the date and time you access the website, the geographic location from which you access the website and the internet address of the website from which you link directly to our website. Drivetrain Australia or the Site Host may use this information to monitor the usage of the website. All the information automatically captured provides the Site Host and us with the ability to enhance the search and product and service offerings for our customers and to determine aggregate information about our user base and their usage patterns.

When you click on links and banners on Drivetrain Australia website that take you to third party websites which are not controlled by Drivetrain Australia, you will be subject to that third party's privacy policy. While Drivetrain Australia supports the protection of privacy on the internet, we cannot be held responsible for the actions of any third parties and the consequences of you accessing their websites. We encourage you to read the posted privacy policy of any and every site you visit, whether you are linking from our website or browsing on your own.

12.2. Does Drivetrain Australia use electronic mechanisms such as "cookies"?

Drivetrain Australia Pty Ltd and the Site Host use data collection devices such as "cookies" to deliver customised visitor experiences and to analyse website user metrics. A "cookie" is a small file placed on your hard drive that assists us in providing our services. While you may configure your browser to reject cookies, due to the technology we use, cookies are required to register with and purchase products and services on line from our website. Most cookies are "session cookies" which means they are automatically deleted from your hard drive as soon as you close your browser or shortly thereafter. You may also encounter cookies or other data collection devices placed by third parties and we cannot control the use of those cookies.

12.3. What personal information does Drivetrain Australia collect on its website?

In general, you can browse our website without revealing any personal information other than the information automatically collected. However, once you register or otherwise provide more specific personal information, you are no longer anonymous to Drivetrain Australia and the Site Host. During registration or order entry processes, you may give Drivetrain Australia or the Site Host general identity information about yourself (eg. your name, company name, business address, business telephone number or business email address) and more detailed information for specific purposes (eg. special interest in products or industries, your job responsibilities or shipping and payment preferences for online purchases). As you browse our site, Drivetrain Australia or the Site Host may collect certain information about how you use the site regardless of any registration.

12.4. How does Drivetrain Australia use the personal information collected on its website?

Drivetrain Australia and the Site Host uses the information collected to do internal research on our users' demographics, interests and behaviours to better understand and service our customers. We also capture metrics on the number of visitors to the website to assist in determining our server capacity needs and the popularity of our offerings and information.

13. APPLICATION OF THIS POLICY

This policy applies to all situations in which Drivetrain Australia collects your personal information, including but not limited to collection via this website. When you do business with us, subscribe to one of our services or otherwise provide your personal information to us, you consent to us using your personal information in the manner described in this privacy policy.

14. CONTACTING US

You can contact Drivetrain Australia about your personal information in any of the following ways:

- by email to privacy@engenco.com.au
- by phone on (03) 8620 8904; or
- by post to:

The Privacy Officer Engenco Ltd
Level 22, 535 Bourke Street,
Melbourne VIC 3000

15. WHAT HAPPENS IF THIS PRIVACY POLICY CHANGES?

Drivetrain Australia reserves the right to amend this privacy policy at any time without notice. If we update or change this policy, the amended policy will be posted on our website as a replacement to this publication.
